There are several possible reasons for this issue, such as an outdated browser cache. Anyway, here are some quick fixes to resolve the issue where the Bing Homepage Quiz doesn't appear or is not working: If the Bing Homepage Quiz doesn't show up for some reason, you can try changing the country or region for your Bing account. Open the Bing website and click the Settings hamburger icon on the upper-right corner. On the dropdown menu, select "Settings" and then click "Country/Region." Choose your new country/region. Click "Privacy and security" on the left navigation menu. Select "Delete browsing data." Check both "Cookies and other site data" and "Cached images and files." Click "Delete data" to clear the cache. Using Microsoft Edge instead? Follow the steps to clear the browser cache in Edge: Click the Settings icon (three horizontal dots) on the upper-right corner. Select "Settings" on the dropdown menu. Click "Privacy, search, and services" on the left navigation menu. Scroll to the "Delete browsing data" section and click "Choose what to clear." Make sure that both "Cookies and other site data" and "Cached images and files" are checked. Click "Clear now." Clearing the browser cache can cause unexpected issues, including being logged out of websites. If you don't want to clear the browser cache, you may use a different browser instead, such as Brave or Firefox.
