Someone called and said they found it, so Anabel's older brother went to the place where the car was found. His book details how Mexican authorities took sides in the internal struggles of the drug cartels.[15][16]He wrote about the alleged relationship between the Mexican government and U.S. agents, and the impact it apparently had on Mexico's War on Drugs, including the start of the Sinaloa cartel's methamphetamine trade.[17] Hernández has received numerous death threats from the Mexican government itself since writing about drug trafficking. Hernández and his family began the search by calling local hospitals first. He has worked, but reported previously for national newspapers. Mr. Hernández's body was finally found lying on a road in Tultitlán, a municipality outside Mexico City.The Mexico City police reportedly said they would investigate only if What the familia refused. [2] [3] Hernandez employs two bodyguards to protect. [8] Professional career Hernandez is a collaborative journalist of online publication. In 1999, he joined the periological millennium. (2013) The true night of equal. Three years after Hernandez was grateful of his first child and stopped working there. Reform, and the universal and complementary magazine of the magazine. [4] SU EDITOR, "The perverse power of silence," on the importance of a free press in the Mexico was included in 2012 Way of Freedom of Press Publication. [9] In his editorial, he wrote: "If we were silent, we kill freedom, justice a possibility that an armed society with information may have the power to change the situation which led us to this point. " [10] TowellaGateen 2001, Hernandez, while working at Millennium, revealed the news on the "extravagance" with which the winning presidential candidate, Vicente Fox, would decorate his personal accommodation with public funds, A campaign for an "austerity ticket". [11] The newspaper published reports of expenditure from the Government of President Vicente Fox for the redecoration of the presidential cabins. Inside the car was one of Mr. Hernandez and the trunk of the car was stained with blood. She was a millennium and also her work at Universal, supposedly due to the indirect pressure of the government on the newspapers to censor her work. First research on December 5, 2000, Hernandez received a call from his DicéÁ © otola that his father had not returned home the night before. In the meter, the scan was known as Towellagate [Towelgate]. [12] For his relatives, Hernandez won the National Journalism for Mexico 2002.
