Rationale to be followed in the Question Paper Section I This should contain 4 questions on poetry and 8 on prose including the play. No True/False questions shall be asked. When MCQs are used, care should be taken to see that only one answer is possible. Section II Ten questions are to be set here. Out of ten, 7 shall be set on prose units including the play and 3 on poems. A student has to answer at least 2 questions on poems. Section III In this section an internal choice shall be provided with two questions set on prose units and one on poems. This question is aimed at testing the learner's critical and analytical approach. The learner shall be provided an opportunity to come up with his/her personal views, stance and world view. The questions set in this section shall aim to do so. Section IV An unseen passage of moderate length is to be selected for this section. Ten questions on this passage are to be set. Along with questions on factual details, a few inferential questions shall be set. These inferential questions shall not be consecutive. The questions set on lines chosen from the poem shall be aimed at testing extensive reading comprehension rather than testing the learner's ability to appreciate. The lines from the poem shall be chosen from among the ones given in the Reading Unit of the Work Book. Section V This section shall contain questions on reported speech, use of the passive, dialogue writing, use of expressions and linkers. The questions set to test learning at these areas shall be contextualised. Section VI In this section questions on composition skills like note making, letter writing, speech writing and report writing shall be set. The letter shall be a job application. An internal choice shall be provided between speech writing (expansion) and report writing. For report writing, a bar chart, pie chart or line graph shall be given with a variety of data. Section VII This section aims to test the learner's understanding of the pronominal words. For this purpose a short paragraph from the passage given at Q.No. 24 shall be given. The question on jumbled segments shall have a minimum of five segments and shall be chosen from one of the prose units in the Course Book.
