For those of you who often like to change the form of the icon on the home screen, the process has changed in Android 10. The setting is buried and now applies to a simple home screen icons.in previous versions of Android, in particular Oreo and Pie, you can long press the home screen, select "Domestic Settings", select "Change the forms of the icon", then choose between the Default option, Square, Square, Square, Squirt or shape. Super easy. This was for the first time available on pixels but expanded to other Nokia devices, essential, motorcycle, et al.well, Android 10, which is only available for Google Pixels, Pixel XL, Pixel 2, Pixel 2 XL, Pixel 3 and Pixel 3 XL (and their counterparts 3 a) At this time, the "Change icon shapes" option is not found anywhere in "domestic settings". In fact, you won't find it anywhere unless you happen to have "options for developers" unlocked. If you don't have that useless menu, this is the first place to start if you want to change your home screen. Do not miss: 15 reasons to unlock developer options on your Android Go to "System" in the settings app, then tap "Advanced" to expand those options. Then press "information about the phone", then expand your "advanced" section. Finally, it quickly touches at least seven times on the "Build number" until you see "Now you are a developer!" You may need to enter the PIN to continue. PERFUCCI INSTRUCTIONS: Unlock pixel developer options in Android Pie & Superiors If you have just unlocked the "developer options", you can simply hit a few times to return to the "Advanced" "system settings. Otherwise, go to settings Å Ć Å, ~" > System Å Ć Å, ~" > Advanced Å Ć Å, ~" > Developer options. Once inside, scroll to the back and touch "icon shape". Just like before, a few different pop-up options: the default circular device, square, tear, loaf of rounded rectangle. In case you are asking, "Rounded Square" is now called "rounded rectangle" for some reason. Why does the icon shap the settings from the "domestic settings" to "Developer Options" in Android 10? Because it applies to more than the main screen now. Quick settings (the drop-down menu), overview (the ui multitasking) and the sharing menu are all influenced by a change, as well as other areas where icons appear.Below are examples of the form options available for pixels, showing their watch in the app drawer, quick settings, panoramic menu and share menu. To jump immediately above the apps that are so common, universal, and well replicated on the iPhone or other mobile platforms that a user with a need probably we can do - Facebook, Yelp, Evernote, remembers milk and endless twitter clients, Widget and app. We have also skipped on Google's ordered apps, like Google Voice, navigation and glasses, which are (or will) included the standard Android phones. Instead, we are aiming to shine a small light on apps that can easily offer excellent functionality for those who download them.Update: I moved taskiller for free up to a lower ranking, and modify its entry description a little, after some more Searches, off from some comments and emails Andro-savvy.10. Layarin some ways, this is a vote for the potential of Layar as much as the practical practical Walking through your phone and see Wikipedia's subjects, apartments for sale and what Twitter users have delighted through your phone is a rather accurate thing, and potentially useful when you're looking for things to do in a new city. But as Layar continues to add new levels, and how the camera and mobile processing power continue to improve, Layar could become much more interesting than already. One thing worth remembering is that if you don't like the view of the 3D camera, or as the appearance of yourself while you use it, Layar can only show the points of interest on a Google type map. Anyway that you use it, it's an intriguing aspect to what is happening around the corner. Shoperokay, at the beginning we were rather skeptical of the application of Google's Shopper, since it only seemed a mashup of his Google glasses and Google's smart-smart apps like Shopsavvy. Then we actually used the shopper, and we were amazed both from what is accurately considered both barcodes and simple hedging shots, and how much it worked very quickly. It turns out, according to a developer who appeared in this week in Google, shopper is actually loading the image data on Google servers as it captures and decodes the barcode on the phone. The speed for the speed sake is beautiful, of course, but it's nice enough not to have to stand in front of a display of a book for a whole two minutes, waving the phone around a group of books you are trying to do the competitive price.
